

FIRE LAKE

THE STORY Born in the wilds of Minnesota – the land of 10,000 lakes – just as Radisson was, FireLake focused on bringing out the natural goodness of the food. And we are glad to share with you the local story... The vast steppes of the Don river flow and its delta with multitude of canals and reservoirs have for centuries been nourishing generations of nations migrating through this area, each of them leaving indelible traces of their culinary heritage. FireLake combines the Don land traditions of open-flame cooking – here it's all about the flavor of the flame using the same techniques practiced for centuries: as many of our dishes as possible are wood and flame-cooked or wood smoked, our cocktails are barrel-aged, our beers hand-crafted and our food from the neighborhood and often organic.

FIRELAKE – THE WINES We'd like to think our list takes you on a bit of a journey around the famous wineries of the region to get the mind going. To this we've added some more familiar numbers of France or Italy and then one or two real curveballs of Spain or New Zealand. If all this sounds complicated, don't worry, your Server is on hand to guide you through the list or simply let you know what their favourites are...

There's a good selection by the glass and we make sure these are perfectly preserved so no oxidization creeps in.

Don't neglect the humble beer: many of our dishes are just perfect with one of our selection of craft ales and your Server will be happy to help. It could be full-bodied beer with pleasant notes of chocolate or roasted nuts Port Arthur porter of the Wolf's Brewery or amber coloured Arni Austrian lager bold of ANT, both already well-established Russian independent breweries. Cheers. Welcome to FireLake.
